The Varsity and Freshman Soccer teams meet this Saturday on the Coop Field to test their relative skill at this game. The obvious choice for the leading scorer is Mort Jenkins, who ran his first competitive race at Tech in 1933, and later became captain of the track team. He was also champion miler that year.

The obvious choice for the leader in the annual interclass track meet will be held this Saturday at 2:00 P.M. at the varsity have lacked the use of the infirmary but who will be present otherwise. The game is scheduled for 2:00 P.M.

The cross-country team has a chance to make up for its poor record this year. It was open to some, and first placers eligible for first and two companies as follows: the 100, 220, 440, 880 yard dash; the one and two mile run; the 220 low hurdles; the high jump, broad jump, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the javelin throw, and the discus throw.

"New material for the team is frequently found during these annual meets," commented Coach Czar Henked, and gave a very valuable illustration in Mart Jenkins, who ran his first competitive race at Tech in the annual interclass meet of 1933 and later became captain of the track team. He was also champion miler of the New England runners during that year.

Class '58 (Continued on Page 10) of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, spoke about his experiences:

while aboard the sloop Von Hindenburg on one of his transatlantic flights.

Professor Arthur A. Blanchard, secretary of the Class of '98, said that the banquet was not a yearly affair but one of a group of frequent gatherings of the class.

SPORTS COMMENT

Tech is playing host to Navy tomorrow when the midshipmen come down to play a night game at the Varsity Field. It is heartening to note that the Institute is given a good chance to win. It is logical to expect that the sailors should win in such a sport but the advantage that our team holds by being familiar with this type of boat may prove too much for the boys from Annapolis.

The obvious choice for the leader in the annual interclass track meet will be held this Saturday at 2:00 P.M. at the varsity have lacked the use of the infirmary but who will be present otherwise. The game is scheduled for 2:00 P.M.

The cross-country team has a chance to make up for its poor record this year. It was open to some, and first placers eligible for first and two companies as follows: the 100, 220, 440, 880 yard dash; the one and two mile run; the 220 low hurdles; the high jump, broad jump, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the javelin throw, and the discus throw.

"New material for the team is frequently found during these annual meets," commented Coach Czar Henked, and gave a very valuable illustration in Mart Jenkins, who ran his first competitive race at Tech in the annual interclass meet of 1933 and later became captain of the track team. He was also champion miler of the New England runners during that year.

Class '58 (Continued on Page 10) of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, spoke about his experiences:

while aboard the sloop Von Hindenburg on one of his transatlantic flights.

Professor Arthur A. Blanchard, secretary of the Class of '98, said that the banquet was not a yearly affair but one of a group of frequent gatherings of the class.

SPORTS COMMENT

Tech is playing host to Navy tomorrow when the midshipmen come down to play a night game at the Varsity Field. It is heartening to note that the Institute is given a good chance to win. It is logical to expect that the sailors should win in such a sport but the advantage that our team holds by being familiar with this type of boat may prove too much for the boys from Annapolis.

The obvious choice for the leader in the annual interclass track meet will be held this Saturday at 2:00 P.M. at the varsity have lacked the use of the infirmary but who will be present otherwise. The game is scheduled for 2:00 P.M.

The cross-country team has a chance to make up for its poor record this year. It was open to some, and first placers eligible for first and two companies as follows: the 100, 220, 440, 880 yard dash; the one and two mile run; the 220 low hurdles; the high jump, broad jump, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the javelin throw, and the discus throw.

"New material for the team is frequently found during these annual meets," commented Coach Czar Henked, and gave a very valuable illustration in Mart Jenkins, who ran his first competitive race at Tech in the annual interclass meet of 1933 and later became captain of the track team. He was also champion miler of the New England runners during that year.

Class '58 (Continued on Page 10) of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, spoke about his experiences:

while aboard the sloop Von Hindenburg on one of his transatlantic flights.

Professor Arthur A. Blanchard, secretary of the Class of '98, said that the banquet was not a yearly affair but one of a group of frequent gatherings of the class.

SPORTS COMMENT

Tech is playing host to Navy tomorrow when the midshipmen come down to play a night game at the Varsity Field. It is heartening to note that the Institute is given a good chance to win. It is logical to expect that the sailors should win in such a sport but the advantage that our team holds by being familiar with this type of boat may prove too much for the boys from Annapolis.

The obvious choice for the leader in the annual interclass track meet will be held this Saturday at 2:00 P.M. at the varsity have lacked the use of the infirmary but who will be present otherwise. The game is scheduled for 2:00 P.M.

The cross-country team has a chance to make up for its poor record this year. It was open to some, and first placers eligible for first and two companies as follows: the 100, 220, 440, 880 yard dash; the one and two mile run; the 220 low hurdles; the high jump, broad jump, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the javelin throw, and the discus throw.

"New material for the team is frequently found during these annual meets," commented Coach Czar Henked, and gave a very valuable illustration in Mart Jenkins, who ran his first competitive race at Tech in the annual interclass meet of 1933 and later became captain of the track team. He was also champion miler of the New England runners during that year.

Class '58 (Continued on Page 10) of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, spoke about his experiences:

while aboard the sloop Von Hindenburg on one of his transatlantic flights.

Professor Arthur A. Blanchard, secretary of the Class of '98, said that the banquet was not a yearly affair but one of a group of frequent gatherings of the class.