SPORTS COMMENT

Two one-year-old freshmen were spotting practice last week. When their enthusiasm got the better of their direction, they threw caution to the wind and waded in, trailing patterned scratches. Finally one of the freshmen suggested quitting and the other freshman agreed. All traces of pattern quickly vanished until members noticed that the participants of the noon practice was heading in a corner starting at nothing. Three freshmen hurried over and pulled him with the old school.

One last year's game, with B. U. ended in a toss-up, 6 to 6, which is enough reason to try the Tech.

The Engineers have been practicing for two weeks and have shown up in the practice in quantity. There are over fifty members, second only to Cornell in size. There are three freshmen who will be making their debut the Tech's third, fourth, and fifth. This makes the Tech's third most promising, and exciting one.

One last thing; for three years, with the Boston Press, he's tried to get for his team, as also did his coach, the Tech coaching rifle.

The starting lineup has been announced as follows: Omen, G. Murch; Past, C. B. Wal, B. L. O. Wal, and W. R. Walsh. Walsh will start in the shooting. The plans is to pull Burt in part of the time.
