MONI SEN GIVES TALK ABOUT AMERICA TODAY

Lecturer From India Will Talk Of His Impressions

Moni Sen, an Indian student visiting the United States, spent last night in the M. I. T. Student House last night. His talk, sponsored by the Technology student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will be given on "Leonardo da Vinci, Artist and Engineer." The lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given three times during the day: at 10 o'clock in Room 3030, and on two afternoons in East Lecture Room A, Rooms 60 and 61.

Professor Smit, author of "Leonard da Vinci, Artist and Engineer," will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The meeting, held in conjunction with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will be held tomorrow on "Leonardo da Vinci, Artist and Engineer." The lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given three times during the day: at 10 o'clock in Room 3030, and on two afternoons in East Lecture Room A, Rooms 60 and 61.

Professor Smit, author of "Leonard da Vinci, Artist and Engineer," will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The meeting, held in conjunction with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will be held tomorrow on "Leonardo da Vinci, Artist and Engineer." The lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given three times during the day: at 10 o'clock in Room 3030, and on two afternoons in East Lecture Room A, Rooms 60 and 61.

Professor Smit, author of "Leonard da Vinci, Artist and Engineer," will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The meeting, held in conjunction with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will be held tomorrow on "Leonardo da Vinci, Artist and Engineer." The lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given three times during the day: at 10 o'clock in Room 3030, and on two afternoons in East Lecture Room A, Rooms 60 and 61.

Professor Smit, author of "Leonard da Vinci, Artist and Engineer," will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The meeting, held in conjunction with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will be held tomorrow on "Leonardo da Vinci, Artist and Engineer." The lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given three times during the day: at 10 o'clock in Room 3030, and on two afternoons in East Lecture Room A, Rooms 60 and 61.