had been a generous contributor as well as active in its administration. "Mr. Hayden’s interest in the welfare of young men is manifested at the Institute by the dormitory unit which he contributed to and which, by action of the executive committee, bears his name. His interests in his professional training in mining engineering was given material expression in the construction of a principal portion of the funds used in the construction of the Institute’s building devoted to mining and metallurgy. In addition to these major contributions, Mr. Hayden was continually and quietly contributing to student needs as for example in various ways aid in the development of recreational sports so much needed in an institution of this type where the academic load is severe.

"To all of his Institute colleagues and friends, Mr. Hayden exhibited his impartiality warm and generous disposition, his colorful personality and that fundamentally sincere devotion to the welfare of young men which is so notably expressed in the terms of his will. His specific bequest of one million dollars to the Institute gives us quick and substantial encouragement and will enable us to make substantial provision ways in the twelve and a half million dollar program of objectives which the Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications, commended the Tech Engineering News on its good work.

The cup will be awarded annually to the best technical publication in the Engineering College Magazine Association, The Tech Engineering News judging the competition. What the cup has been won three times it becomes the permanent possession of the winner.

H. Arthur Zimmerman, ’317, retiring general manager, was toast master at the banquet and Donald S. Fish, ’39, Editor-in-Chief of the Tech Engineering News for Volume XII in 1932-33 at present Associate Editor of "Electronics," was the guest speaker. J. Elaine Kilian, Jr., of the Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications, commended the Tech Engineering News on its good work.

made-over dining room." "Any dining room would be more refined and more limited where the guests would not be obliged to bring their own silver in bulk."

Although both the date and place for the dance have been selected, the guest list has not been set. The choices of the orchestra will determine the admission price. No definite decision will be taken until the end of the month.

Kell concluded his announcement for the Committee by stating, "Despite the appropriateness of having all the Institute functions at Technology, the disadvantages of the present Walker led the Committee to decide on an outside location."
