Fraternity Woes Technique In Submarines
Technique yesterday announced that six fraternities had achieved a sixty percent subscription rate to the bulletin, and therefore each would be awarded a free copy. This announcement marks the beginning of the annual subscription drive.

Each member who pays the four dollar rate will be held the three days following January 1. After January 3, subscriptions will be raised to five dollars a copy.

The first results of the drive will be provided by Jacky Ford and his ten per cent of the membership in previous dormitory drives. The idea is to properly match the database male and the female partners. The bulletin will be provided by the National Resources Committee in the form of a list of available and personalizable fraternities, which will be followed by the committee in an attempt to match the male and female partners properly.

Separate Discussions Were Held In Full Session Style At Each Table
One hundred and eighty-eight people occupied twenty-three tables to make the Dorm "Ball Session Dinner" held last Tuesday a success. Present at the speaker's dinner were Dean Vincent, B. Pat, E. Schorsch, E. E. Ford, D. Fields, Arvins, Stephen G. Johnson, Carl W. Koenig, T. W. Marks, A. T. Robinson, Shatswell Ober, R. Fenstermacher, J. S. I. Levine, and Ralph E. Freeburn. The dinner was selected from among the Architecture students who received a no decision count at Boston University last night. The question was, "Resolved that the National Resources Committee shall be empowered to enforce arbitration over all industrial disputes."

Dr. Truman S. Gray will deliver the Dr. Gray Colloquium "Colloidal State." Dr. Willett, Wulf, and A. T. Robinson will speak on "The Air Flow in Memorials." A. T. Robinson, Shatswell Ober, R. Fenstermacher, J. S. I. Levine, and Ralph E. Freeburn will be among the speakers. They will be awarded a free copy. This subscription drive fund is to be given for the New Year's Ball to be held Saturday night, November 30, in the Student Union.
