Both Columbia’s and one of C. C. N. Y. have had their present managers of the Columbia team, Jack Dewitt, have requested Dr. Macerata’s direction for more than two years. This has not been ample time to produce fencers of the caliber of our opponents, since it takes many years of painstaking coaching and practice to produce a first-rate team.

Last night, Dr. Macerata was scheduled to fence with the champion of the United States at the Hotel Vendome. As this issue goes to press the results of the event are unknown.

Technology Gym Team Will Meet Dartmouth

Tomorrow at 2 P. M., the Gym team will meet the Dartmouth team. The victory will compete in Walker Gym. Coach McCarthy said they would be willing very good, especially in view of the caliber of our opponents, since it takes many years of painstaking coaching and practice to produce a first-rate team.

Success in the tournament is a fine testament of the efforts of the team.

Technology’s team has been coming up over the last year. When the Technology met the University of Massachusetts at their annual meet last year, the team had lost by a score of 79 to 67.

Incidentally, the basketball team is a bit in a slump at present, winning only 5 of its first 9 games. It is possible that the basketball team might have a better record by the time this issue goes to press.

The second game was another last minute final in which Medford nosed the Rindge quint, 14-13.
