Diesel School Faces
Institute Nine Today.

At four o'clock today on the Coop field, the unofficial Diesel team, headed by Arnold Arch, '40, will play the United States School of Diesel Engineering, whose team is under the supervision of Stanley W. Doroff, M. I. T., '34.

Saturday afternoon the Institute diamond men will face a team of Harvard varsity and the M. I. T. '34.

Supervision of Stanley W. Doroff, M. I. T., '34.

The Second Official Intercollegiate
Dinghy Regatta Of Year
On April 23, 24

The Institute will be competently represented, as always, to walk away with the Intercollegiate Dinghy Regatta, which will be held on the Charles, Saturday, April 23 and Sunday, April 24, the Institute's boatmen acting as hosts to Brown, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, Williams, and Yale.

The Institute will be completely represented, as of last year, by Kenneth Colie, Jr., '40, skipper of the "A" boat, and by Herman H. Hanson, '39, and C. Eric Olson, Jr., '38, co-skippers of the "B" boat. (Olsen is in charge during light weather, and Hanson during the "B" boat. (Olsen is in charge during light weather, and Hanson during heavy weather.)

A novel feature of the regatta will be the two-way radio sets with which all the launches are provided, thus keeping them completely in touch with each other and with the shore.

Time Trials Tomorrow
For Both Track Teams

In preparation for the opening meets of the Freshman and Varsity track teams, trials will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:15. The Varsity will have tryouts in fifteen events while the Freshmen will compete in fourteen.

The two mile run is not required to be collected the balls after the practice.
