Electoral Changes in Government Of Economics And Agriculture, According To Professor Fred- Dr. Paul Heymans, former Tech- nology student and faculty member, was elected president of the department of economics and agriculture at the annual meeting of the Belgian cabinet, according to Prime Minister Henry Mouton.

Dr. Heymans, after studying at the University of Ghent, came here to receive his doctor's degree in physics in 1914. He was then appointed a research assistant, and in 1928 he be- came an assistant professor, establishing his position at 1938. He returned to Belgium.

The position of economics and agriculture is one of the key posi- tions in the government. The cabinet had been the head of the govern- ment for industrial credits.

The next important post, that of finance minister, was assigned to Max Lewy, who had charge of a national currency program in 1938. Babcock Elects New President For Next Year

Benjamin W. Babcock, '39, was elected to the presidency for 1938-39, and one for the following year, by the Propeller Club of a dinner meeting in Memorial on Wednesday evening.

The dual governing bodies were made necessary by the fact that Course XIII-C, Marine Transportation, from which the Propeller Club draws its members, is a five-year course, one year being spent at sea. For that reason there will be no senior member of the club at the Institute next year, and Sophomores were elected in next year's offices.

List Of Officers

Those elected for next year were: Sihard E. Levy, president; Frank W. Bixler, vice-president, and William N. Richardson, secretary-treasurer, all of the class of 1940. For 1939-40 the officers were: Howard M. Woodward, president; C. Robert Anderson, vice-president, and John T. Kirk, Jr., secretary-treasurer, all of the class of 1941.

The officers for 1939-40 were chosen subject to approval by the Institute Committee for adequate funds with which to put the program into effect.
