LIES AND BAD TASTE
Voo Doo Sings To Both

The appearance of Voo Doo's first issue today marks the climax of a year which has been developing for some time—the replacement of real magazines by garbage, a development that has been going on at other organizations at the Institute. For Voo Doo has finally sunk to the lowest level, and nothing short of a complete change of management can prevent such sordid tactics from appearing in the pages of other publications.

We will cite as an example, Voo Doo's recent blistering attack on the Honor System and The Tech. This claim is not true. The Tech is a true friend of The Institute and has always held the best interest of students in mind. The Tech is the voice of the students, and any student who reads Voo Doo regularly is an enemy of the Institute.

We should all be thankful that The Tech is dedicated to the principles of truth and justice, and that it has always been free from the low level of printing downright lies and slander, apparently in humor, to which the student body has been so often subjected. Any honest member of the Tech staff readily admits their responsibility.

This example is just one. There is no humor involved. We do not want to appear unable to "take a joke", and certainly we intend to do so. We have always felt that there should be rivalry between the publications to keep competitive spirit alive among students.

But when Castelain, Wingard, Vegers, and their stooges have resort to lies and slander to attract freshmen to The Institute, we feel sorry for them. We cannot feel quite as sorry for Cascolman & Co., however, when the publications they write appear to know nothing about slander or truth. If such parts appear to be clever and really humorous, however, other parts appear to be nothing but lies.

The Tech and The Institute do not strive to be humorous, but they do strive to be fair. We are the representatives of the students, while Cascolman & Co. are the agents of a few individuals who are trying to spread a lot of garbage about.

Fraternity Men
Monopolize Freshman Council Elections

17 Leaderships Positions Won As Dorus Get Only 6; Commutors trail

Freshmen leaders were elected last Thursday by show of hands, with students nominated earlier in the week. Those receiving the most nominations were elected as leaders and those receiving the next greatest count were made alternates. (Continued on page 2)

Degrading Humor Makes First Appearance

False Accounts Clatter Lurid Pages; Challenge Offered

To The Tech

Voo Doo's first issue billed itself as "newsmagazine" and made its first appearance of the year. The Tech is a very oldtime newspaper and such a claim foolishly inflates the puff of our college press. Following its usual libelous statement, the Tech is not only refering to the来到 the time of the Freshmen

The annual banquet has been an
It is claimed by The Tech that the Freshmen Council is responsible for the Freshmen's activities. This is a gross misrepresentation of the truth. Those who are for the Freshmen Council are truly interested in the welfare of the students and the future of the college.

To the Freshmen Council, member Charles W. Hargrave, Philanthropist; Nonton, William E. Lazarus, Washington; Stevens, D. C. J.; William V. Sycy, Norvell; William J. Kluskin, Del.; E. J. L. Nethersold; and Paul H. Whiting, Tem, New York, have all been in the Freshmen Council. (Continued on page 2) having a low price. The Tech will be the first to eat.

Watering of Freshman Precipitates

Struggle as Frosh Fight Sophomores

"Give me water" cried a Freshman in the Freshman band as the drill squad struggled to move across the field. The Freshmen were struggling to get their instruments in position and the Sophomores were trying to move theirs.

The Freshman band is composed of about 300 members and lacks any violin, cello, double bass, or piano, which are necessary for a complete band.

The demonstration is being sponsored by the Combined Professional Orchestra and is composed of about 300 members. The orchestra is composed of only forty members, but has an especially high quality microphone, a giant loud speaker, and other sound producing devices.
