New Architectural Library Has Many Improvements in Design and Equipment

Laziness in equipment and functional design, such as the New Architectural Library on the second floor of the Library Building. The library contains 14,300 volumes of books, but also 5,400 special numbers, 2,000 letters, and 8,000 clipping of current periodicals, besides portfolios and Architecture and its allied subjects.

Decorating Outstanding

The furnishing and decoration of the library are as attractive as its equipment. Done in "costume" terra-cotta, the supporting columns are made of terra-cotta, which is painted red, and has a dark background with woodwork and murals.

To prevent excessive noise for those who wish it, the ceiling has been suspended. The floor also has an outstanding feature. A large illustration of the library, which is suspended from the ceiling, is a dark background with woodwork and murals.
