PROFESSOR Fassett Here Since 1920

Professor Fassett joined the Institute staff in 1920 as an instructor, became an assistant professor four years later, and was made an associate professor last winter. Since 1924 he has been chairman of the first year instructors in the Department of English, and is a member of the corporation visiting committee of the Department of English and History, and is a member of the trustees on publishing at Simmons College.

Mr. Killian is permanent secretary of the Class of 1926. While a student he was editor of THE TECH.

T.E.N. which appeared on the stands yesterday contained an article, "Una Allen," by R. A. Duckworth, chief structural engineer of Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation, on the construction of the new Architectural Building. This was followed by an article, "Technicolor," the author of which was Dr. Herbert T. Kalmus, President and General Manager of Technicolor Motion Picture Corporation and Technicolor, Inc. There were also two contributions on paper and plastics by Walter E. Williams and a note on Undergraduate Publications.

Professor Fassett graduated from Cobley College, and entered in graduate studies at Cobley, the University of Maine, and Harvard University. He is the author of "A History of Newspapers" in the District of Maine from 1750 to 1820," "Practical Writing," and "Building in Baseball," the last two in collaboration with Professor Paul C. Eaton.

Mr. Jope is secretary of the Advisory Council on Publications, a student for the past three years he was the president of the Junior Class, president of the Institute Committee, a member of the senior class, and a member of the debating team.

He is also a member of the Advisory Council on publications.

E.L. M.-T. 1006

T.E.N. (Continued from Page 1)

All Night On the Door Tickets

Easy to use, no soap or hot water. Gives close shave, no irritation.

Good massage, does not scrape, nick or scratch.