Radio Station Requests Scripts From Tech Men

Students and Dramatic groups are invited to submit original scripts to Miss Katherine Sidle, program director at WBAA, for reading on the air. Scripts must be written, produced, and sent to college students and can be submitted as soon as possible. The deadline for scripts is at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, November 29, beginning Friday, December 2.

The first script, to be sent to WBAA, is one written for adieu farewell to Miss Sidle. Shows on WBAA have been sold, the dance committee an-

Dramashop Gives "Overcast Bound" Friday, Saturday

Play Written By Susan Vanam Will Be Presented At 8:30 In 2-190

"Overcast Bound," a three-act mystery play, was written by Susan Vanam. The play opened on Friday night and was continued on Saturday.

Up to this year, the Dramashop production has always been presented in the auditorium of the old Student Building in Boston. But because of the space limitations of the new building, the play will be presented on the first floor of the Memorial Union. Admission will cost 10 cents, and the play will last three hours.

The plot of the play centers around the sinking of a passenger steamer in the early 1800s. A group of people are taken to an island, where they are held for ransom. One of them is a man who has served on the ship and now is a prisoner.

School Children To See Movies In 6-120 Today

Under the auspices of Friendly Tours, Inc., and in conjunction with the Boston Public Schools, several groups of children will visit the Institute today. Arriving at the Institute at 4 p.m., the groups will tour the buildings and will be shown X-rated films.

Movies on a scientific theme will be shown in Room 1280. This group will be one of the largest visitors to the Institute and the Institute has over one thousand children to see the movie. The films will be shown at 4 p.m., and the children will be on their way by 5 p.m. The group will be the first to visit the Institute and the Institute has over one thousand children to see the movie.

Issues of Novembe

Last night's Institute Committee meeting was devoted to the continuing search for a suitable location and possible scheme of operation for the "College Radio Workshop." A number of ideas were presented at the meeting, and a decision was made to proceed with the project.

The Intercollegiate Temperance Union, as an example, turned down the offer of Techmen to use their dormitory facilities. The union was not interested in the offer and said that it would not be a good show.

The proposal was made by the advertising committee to Techmen to use their dormitory facilities. The committee was backed up by the General Manager of Voo Doe. The last issue of Voo Doe carried a round-up of the department of collegiate alcoholism, which included three drawings on the proposal. It is expected that the proposal will be adopted by the committee last meeting.

The poster, which may be seen at many points around the Institute, shows a dancing couple "waving goodbye."
