Nazi Protest Meeting Held Last Evening

Five Resolutions Adopted Voicing Protests Of Tech Men

FACULTY MEMBERS TALK

A resolution offering free tuition to Jews was the highlight of the proceedings at the Nazi Protest meeting held yesterday evening coming from 6 to 9 P.M. in room 239.

Mr. T. R. Corson, president of the Institute, presided over the gathering, and introduced the speakers of the evening. The Jewish Tech members gather some 700 student and faculty members of Technology to protest against the persecution of Jewry and Judaism in Germany.

Professors Warren K. Lewis and Harold R. Sage, chairman of the Engineering Department, Professor Albert G. Tavel of the English Department, and Mr. Avery Addisohn, chairman of the Economics Department, were the speakers. Each of them expressed a desire to register their protest, and asked that the protest be made by the group for the committee of Tech Jews.

Four Resolutions Made

A resolution to which Professor Lewis responded was one of the four which were made.
