Dean Emerson to Leave Post In Fall Of '39

Walter R. McNicholl Will Head Architectural Dept.

NEW DEAN WELL KNOWN

Professor William Emerson, Dean, of the School of Architecture for almost twenty years, will retire next semester, President Karl T. Compton announced last night. Mr. Walter R. McNicholl, 31, of Oberlin, Ohio, noted architect and authority on housing, is to take his place.

Mr. Emerson has been head of the department of Architecture since he joined the faculty in 1913 after a notable career in architecture in New York, where he is credited with the design of bank buildings and other large foundations.

McNicholl's Group to Be Imitated

Mr. McNicholl, who is noted for his work on housing projects, is also head of the largest group of housing projects in the United States. He was educated at Rhode Island School of Design and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1913, and at the Illinois Institute of Technology, 1915.

His career as he was announced to be the late City Lowell in 1921, 1922, 1923, and 1924. He is the owner of the famous collection of Museum of Fine Arts. Later he was
