Leslie Corsa, Jr., '41

Clayton K. Baer, '41

Robert K. Deutseh, '41

Business Manager .................. J. William Blattenberger '40

Managing Editor .......................... Phelps A. Walker '40 welcomes an opportunity who would like to try their hand at short certainly be a number of men who would technical topics, but nevertheless there tute, if it were not that the representation of a more or less serious tinge.

Up AND AT EM

Sad though it has degenerated from its days of prestige, yet still today is Field Day—the one time of the year when the two lower classes are turned loose on each other with their mohym and mahmynit.

This implies, of course, that there will be no money made on account of conduct during the fracas. Of course there must be sportmanship; give the other guy an even break, or else, if you need for conformity, each man is, or should be, for the blood of the other man, and the other man is supposed to know that and to be prepared for anything.

Deeply though it pains us, we feel impelled to remark that Field Day has become much too formalized a brawl. Freeze the points, and get after the other class. Dig into the glove fight for all you are worth.

However we may do it, I hope that someone else will have to pay. For fight.

Let’s see some action today!

A CHALLENGE

Now that VooDoo has bashfully emerged from the presses and so may be considered official, we feel mildly urged toداول the feline’s tail.

We would like to recall to Pho’s memory a woman who would like to try her hand at short stories, or essays both critical and fundamental.

BIDDING AUTHORS

Four publications might be considered sufficient for a school the size of the Institutute, if it were not that the representation is too wide and varied. In addition, and now are more or less adequately presented, but there is no vend for those individuals who have a talent or a liking for expressive writing of a more or less serious tinge.

Of course, Tech men are generally known for their single minded application to purely technical pursuits, nevertheless there is certainly a number of men who would welcome an opportunity to write creatively, who would like to try, whereby at short vices of VooDoo were blasted off the field, and Finland. This Union, once formed, would be a

for a Federal Union of the 15 experienced democracies:

if the present war is not to be followed in another

no mention made of gentlemanly conduct

Day—the one time of the year when the two ano and Finland. This Union, once formed, would be a

for a Federal Union of the 15 experienced democracies:

if the present war is not to be followed in another

no mention made of gentlemanly conduct

Day—the one time of the year when the two

ano and Finland. This Union, once formed, would be a

for a Federal Union of the 15 experienced democracies:

if the present war is not to be followed in another

no mention made of gentlemanly conduct

Day—the one time of the year when the two

ano and Finland. This Union, once formed, would be a

for a Federal Union of the 15 experienced democracies:

if the present war is not to be followed in another

no mention made of gentlemanly conduct

Day—the one time of the year when the two

ano and Finland. This Union, once formed, would be a