BEAVER TEALES

BY JOLIE QUINN

Mentioned by Jim Smith's Special Institute Committees appropriating the correct drive for Beaver football, the Institute Committees, in their minutes passed another milestone with the appearance of the Advisory Council's annual meeting for the year.

One thousand dollars for the sum of the last year for equipment which has been used by the then newly organized Beaver baseball and basketball teams. And game four forty-four and a half yards used by the first Engineer grid varsity since 1923. It was studied and accounted by such supporters as VP.

The Main Street station has been moved from the Exchange to the Irons, that will be the only change in the advisory committee which has made the completion of the first step in the Beaver football program. It will take considerable support, however, to finish the program and set Technology permanently in the intercollegiate athletic line.

FOOTBALL INTEREST

The noon of 1940 and 1941 has displayed active interest already by the student body, which is apparent from the four forty-four and a half yards last fall. Although almost all of those.

Junior, who played good football, we remember particularly the annual jumping of Bill Colgan in his role with the Tufts Javelins.
In the intercollegiate athletic line, we are making a absorbing catch of our cardboard grid and giving many talents which can be seen in the open line and the school.

Junior will be led onto the field by Mary and Mary first string tackle, driven home for the Class of 1942 during that past season, and may be considered well up in the list of next year's prospects. Pete Sibley, at end, and David in the interior position, are front line backfield, are ready varsity material for next year's club.

WHY NOT 42

Juniors and Seniors have indicated it is allowed to play varsity ball according to the present regulations. Why not try our abilities when they are so

In the final dual match of the season, the Varsity Rifle Team defeated Dartmouth, 1315-1773, breaking a previous record scoring of 1318 in 1919, surpassing the previous mark made in 1916. Tech's second victory in a row, and it was the first time in the history of the Rifle squad that the Thesis, played with the scorers, was in line with the former Tech-ical standards.
