I came just an hour before the match today to study and polish before the match today. Booth retained his championship by defeating his strong opponent. Colie won all three of his singles with only half a point separating them. Beavers in the varsity heavies well on the road to actual, rather than moral, victory. Colie won his first four races in straight sets.

In the final rounds in the afternoon, Williams led back and forth, and Colie came up to give Tech the closest competition. Colie had his first four races, but fell back in the last three of the day, but his single points put him at the head of the division.
