Human Hurricane Hits Dormitory Freshman Rooms

A mass新陈代谢挑 fight par excelience was administered by exernec group appearances to one hundred freshman rooms in the undergraduate dormitories, last Thursday, the night before Field Day, while the victims were completing their special Field Day errands in complete darkness and with no Information officially told that it was the worst that they could remember.
Only one floor, the Hayden first floor, remained un-subtured, because the resdents and alumni insisted that a three-year-old maintaining rate was still in effect. At all others, the rooms with green cards on the doors were spared of practically everything except the wallpaper.

Rooms Disappear

Sticks, wall cabinets, beds, furniture and even windows were removed and placed systematically in separate rooms. Some pieces of furniture were tossed out of windows, while others were hidden in the gardens of the new swimming pool.

While this havoc was going on the poor freshmen were dodging police-times to fulfill the Field Day er-Errands meant not only to those by the freshmen, but the entire dormitory population. At about two o'clock in the morning, the men of '44 came into the offices of the Resident Managers, looking as if they were part of the same age group.

The third round of the Beaver Key Tournament which will

from Tuesday, November 12, ac-ning to Joe Rivers, wrestling coach. All undergraduates except those who were a varsity litter last year are eligible. First place winners in last year's tournament may not enter again in the current season, but they may compete in other classes.

Mock Political Campaign, Dorian
Initiation Task

"Democrats" Vie With "Republicans" For
Two Days In Bldg. 7

Today at 11, 12 and 1 o'clock a series of the twelve newly elected Dorianists were conducting a mock political campaign in the lobby of Bldg. 7. All this is part of the planation prepared by those new men here to the Dorian Club of Freshman Year.

Divided into two teams, Republicans and Democrats, the freshmen were dressed as party symbols. The "Republicans" consisted of two freshmen, five undergraduates and one taxpayer, while the "Democrats" were represented as two WPA workers, three undergraduates and a taxpayer in the acquainted barber.

Jingles with harmonicas, drums, crumple and shaving, John B.
Pilgrim, '42, Peter J. Brown, Jr., '42, Harshfield, J. Rollins, '42, John B.
Arndt, '42, Russell T. Epstein, Jr., '42, and Michael J. Rose, '42, were the winners, while John L.
Chute, Jr. and Neil Otto John Lewin, '42, were the runners-up.

The Field Day errands, however, did not end with the delineation of the new freshmen. Other freshmen were reporting to the Field Day center.

Freshman Rooms

The human hurricane that hit the dormitory rooms of the freshmen last Thursday night is the worst ever recorded.

While this havoc was going on the poor freshmen were dodging police-
times to fulfill the Field Day er-Errands meant not only to those by
the freshmen, but the entire dormitory
population. At about two o'clock in the morning, the men of '44 came
into the offices of the Resident Managers, looking as if they were part of the same age group.

The third round of the Beaver Key Tournament which will

from Tuesday, November 12, ac-

ning to Joe Rivers, wrestling coach. All undergraduates except
those who were a varsity litter
last year are eligible. First place winners in last year's tournament may not enter again in the
current season, but they may compete in other classes.

Mock Political Campaign, Dorian
Initiation Task

"Democrats" Vie With "Republicans" For
Two Days In Bldg. 7

Today at 11, 12 and 1 o'clock a series of the twelve newly elected Dorianists were conducting a mock political campaign in the lobby of Bldg. 7. All this is part of the planation prepared by those new men here to the Dorian Club of Freshman Year.

Divided into two teams, Republicans and Democrats, the freshmen were dressed as party symbols. The "Republicans" consisted of two freshmen, five undergraduates and one taxpayer, while the "Democrats" were represented as two WPA workers, three
undergraduates and a taxpayer in the
acquainted barber.

Jingles with harmonicas, drums, crumple and shaving, John B.
Pilgrim, '42, Peter J. Brown, Jr., '42,
Harshfield, J. Rollins, '42, John B.
Arndt, '42, Russell T. Epstein, Jr., '42,
and Michael J. Rose, '42, were the winners, while John L.
Chute, Jr. and Neil Otto John Lewin, '42, were the runners-up.

The Field Day errands, however, did not end with the delineation of the new freshmen. Other freshmen were reporting to the Field Day center.

Freshman Rooms

The human hurricane that hit the dormitory rooms of the freshmen last Thursday night is the worst ever recorded.

While this havoc was going on the poor freshmen were dodging police-
times to fulfill the Field Day er-Errands meant not only to those by
the freshmen, but the entire dormitory
population. At about two o'clock in the morning, the men of '44 came
into the offices of the Resident Managers, looking as if they were part of the same age group.

The third round of the Beaver Key Tournament which will

from Tuesday, November 12, ac-

ning to Joe Rivers, wrestling coach. All undergraduates except
those who were a varsity litter
last year are eligible. First place winners in last year's tournament may not enter again in the
current season, but they may compete in other classes.

Mock Political Campaign, Dorian
Initiation Task

"Democrats" Vie With "Republicans" For
Two Days In Bldg. 7

Today at 11, 12 and 1 o'clock a series of the twelve newly elected Dorianists were conducting a mock political campaign in the lobby of Bldg. 7. All this is part of the planation prepared by those new men here to the Dorian Club of Freshman Year.

Divided into two teams, Republicans and Democrats, the freshmen were dressed as party symbols. The "Republicans" consisted of two freshmen, five undergraduates and one taxpayer, while the "Democrats" were represented as two WPA workers, three
undergraduates and a taxpayer in the
acquainted barber.

Jingles with harmonicas, drums, crumple and shaving, John B.
Pilgrim, '42, Peter J. Brown, Jr., '42,
Harshfield, J. Rollins, '42, John B.
Arndt, '42, Russell T. Epstein, Jr., '42,
and Michael J. Rose, '42, were the winners, while John L.
Chute, Jr. and Neil Otto John Lewin, '42, were the runners-up.

The Field Day errands, however, did not end with the delineation of the new freshmen. Other freshmen were reporting to the Field Day center.

Freshman Rooms

The human hurricane that hit the dormitory rooms of the freshmen last Thursday night is the worst ever recorded.

While this havoc was going on the poor freshmen were dodging police-
times to fulfill the Field Day er-Errands meant not only to those by
the freshmen, but the entire dormitory
population. At about two o'clock in the morning, the men of '44 came
into the offices of the Resident Managers, looking as if they were part of the same age group.

The third round of the Beaver Key Tournament which will

from Tuesday, November 12, ac-

ning to Joe Rivers, wrestling coach. All undergraduates except
those who were a varsity litter
last year are eligible. First place winners in last year's tournament may not enter again in the
current season, but they may compete in other classes.

Mock Political Campaign, Dorian
Initiation Task

"Democrats" Vie With "Republicans" For
Two Days In Bldg. 7

Today at 11, 12 and 1 o'clock a series of the twelve newly elected Dorianists were conducting a mock political campaign in the lobby of Bldg. 7. All this is part of the planation prepared by those new men here to the Dorian Club of Freshman Year.

Divided into two teams, Republicans and Democrats, the freshmen were dressed as party symbols. The "Republicans" consisted of two freshmen, five undergraduates and one taxpayer, while the "Democrats" were represented as two WPA workers, three
undergraduates and a taxpayer in the
acquainted barber.

Jingles with harmonicas, drums, crumple and shaving, John B.
Pilgrim, '42, Peter J. Brown, Jr., '42,
Harshfield, J. Rollins, '42, John B.
Arndt, '42, Russell T. Epstein, Jr., '42,
and Michael J. Rose, '42, were the winners, while John L.
Chute, Jr. and Neil Otto John Lewin, '42, were the runners-up.

The Field Day errands, however, did not end with the delineation of the new freshmen. Other freshmen were reporting to the Field Day center.

Freshman Rooms

The human hurricane that hit the dormitory rooms of the freshmen last Thursday night is the worst ever recorded.

While this havoc was going on the poor freshmen were dodging police-
times to fulfill the Field Day er-Errands meant not only to those by
the freshmen, but the entire dormitory
population. At about two o'clock in the morning, the men of '44 came
into the offices of the Resident Managers, looking as if they were part of the same age group.

The third round of the Beaver Key Tournament which will

from Tuesday, November 12, ac-

ning to Joe Rivers, wrestling coach. All undergraduates except
those who were a varsity litter
last year are eligible. First place winners in last year's tournament may not enter again in the
current season, but they may compete in other classes.

Mock Political Campaign, Dorian
Initiation Task

"Democrats" Vie With "Republicans" For
Two Days In Bldg. 7

Today at 11, 12 and 1 o'clock a series of the twelve newly elected Dorianists were conducting a mock political campaign in the lobby of Bldg. 7. All this is part of the planation prepared by those new men here to the Dorian Club of Freshman Year.

Divided into two teams, Republicans and Democrats, the freshmen were dressed as party symbols. The "Republicans" consisted of two freshmen, five undergraduates and one taxpayer, while the "Democrats" were represented as two WPA workers, three
undergraduates and a taxpayer in the
acquainted barber.

Jingles with harmonicas, drums, crumple and shaving, John B.
Pilgrim, '42, Peter J. Brown, Jr., '42,
Harshfield, J. Rollins, '42, John B.
Arndt, '42, Russell T. Epstein, Jr., '42,
and Michael J. Rose, '42, were the winners, while John L.
Chute, Jr. and Neil Otto John Lewin, '42, were the runners-up.

The Field Day errands, however, did not end with the delineation of the new freshmen. Other freshmen were reporting to the Field Day center.

Freshman Rooms

The human hurricane that hit the dormitory rooms of the freshmen last Thursday night is the worst ever recorded.