Smith Discusses ASCAP, Drama
Lecturer Argues Pros And Cons
Of Current BMI Feud

ASCAP and its relations to the American Drama was discussed at a lecture given by Professor S. Stephens Smith in Biographical Dinner auditorium at 4:30 P.M. The subject of the lecture was "Politics of ASCAP versus BMI - Their Position in the American Theatre."

Professor Smiths' Biographical Grant from ASCAP gave away a motion of the recent American Drama, including him in his submission many of the gospels of the plays.

He concluded his lecture with a report of ASCAP's contributions to American Drama and presented new arguments in the current feud against BMI. He also carefully explained that in his published opinions, musical radio programs would not be able to continue much longer successfully without ASCAP.
