Two Societies Confer Here
Institute And Harvard Are Joint Hosts
At Science Meetings
The Optical Society of America and the American Physical Society will hold a joint meeting each and every year at the Institute and at Harvard beginning at 8:30 A.M. when registration for the meeting is to be held in the Eastman Building Lobby. A symposium of invited papers is scheduled to be presented before both Societies in Huntington Hall, Room 10-30, at ten in the morning.
Professor Arthur C. Hardy of the Institute, David L. MacAdam of the Kodak Company, and Harold S. Abell, of the National Bureau of Standards have been invited to present papers at this combined meeting. All of the papers will be read with some respect of time.
Separate Meetings This Afternoon
The Societies meet separately at the Institute for the presentations of papers as previously arranged.

Shaw and Anderson Elected To Head T.C.A.
For The Coming Year

New T.C.A. Head

H. Hoover Shaw, '42, former chairman of the Boy's Work Department, was elected to the presidency of the T.C.A. at a meeting held Wednesday as held at 4:00 P.M. in Room 10-200. Professor Theodore Smith of the English department spoke in favor of the proposed "Lend-Lease Bill" and the "Isolationist" Professor Harvey Shaw argued against the bill.

Professor Smith traced the neutrality policy of the United States since the outbreak of the Italo-Ethiopian war. He showed the visitors edging the home- line in the Hangar Gym.

Old Ring Wins By Landslide Vote

In Wednesday Poll

Junior, Seniors Cast 414 Ballots For "Rat"; 485 Participate

Favoring the "broad oak" by a landslide vote, 414 ballots, 86 more than the Junior and Sophomore class voted in a poll held last Wednesday in the Middle School Building of 146. The Rat vote was 335 for the present rat as opposed to 175 for the proposed ring.

In the Class of '41, the situation was almost the same: in favor of the present ring gives it 174 of the 245 votes cast by the class. In the Freshman class, the vote was slightly closer, but a decided majority favored the present ring, cutting 148 ballots against the 80 proponents for the golden rat.

Orders for the rings may be given on Thursday, February 20th, and Monday, February 24th, 32 before 3:30, 22 between 11 and 2, and at 5:00 in the Main Lobby. The same time measurements for the rings are to be taken.
