The concert given by the 21st String quartet in "Tyger songs" of Wednesday night and with success. The concert was planned to find out how Tech students would react to a concert of classical music given by Tech students. Forty students were present, and it was remarked that they would like to have more of the concerts.

David Eberly, '41, the first violist, held the well co-ordinated group in adoration from first and second violins, Albert V. Taskin, '41, William M. Loh, '41, and Hugo D. Walsworth, '41, were the other members of the group. Next Sunday the quartet will play at Langdow Towers.

Inst. Comm. (Continued from Page 1)
be realized the occasion demanded such delay in this case. The Voo Doo campus elections were next in order of such delay in this case. The Voo Doo campus elections were next in order of business and approval was granted to them as well as to the T.C.A. elections.

S. Menel, '41, Secretary of the Institute Committee, stated that "the elections to the Executive committee of the Institute Committee, that a motion presented by Murdock concerning the possibility of a "gross error" and in the event of complaints. It was further stated that Technology crews would be set up in the parade of present, and future good collegiate crews.

Helen Forrest

(Continued from Page 1)
most of Bunny's arrangements. Putting out sensational arrangements is a matter of course for these boys. As for the new avant, it contains a complete instrumentation. For drums, bass slide, guitar, tenor, baritone, and Goodmich's incalculable首席。

Dancing from 10 to 3
The Prom will have dancing from 10:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M. and not for anyone who is unable to sign the yearbook. Again those who wish to have their names in the Voo Doo Prom Issue of Voo Doo are asked to sign up at the social committee desk. Update may be redone today in the Main Lobby from 11:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. and anyone who is unable to sign done at this time should make appointments with the committee in person.