Brown Is Favorably Positioned to Lead Field in Intercollegiate Swim Meet

Swim meet on tap at Harvard, Tech, Yale, URI today

Although the final result is not likely to be known until tomorrow, Coach Garrett is predicting a 1-2-3 finish for the Beavers in the Northeast Intercollegiate Swim Meet which begins today at Harvard. The meet will include teams from Brown, Harvard, Yale, URI, Princeton, and Hartford.

The meet is scheduled to begin at 1:00 P.M. today and will continue until 9:00 P.M. tomorrow. The meet will be held in the Harvard University Pool, which is located on the campus of Harvard University.

The meet will feature a variety of events, including the 200-yard medley relay, the 400-yard medley relay, the 800-yard freestyle relay, the 200-yard freestyle, the 100-yard butterfly, the 100-yard backstroke, the 100-yard breaststroke, and the 100-yard individual medley.

The Beavers are expected to field a strong team and are looking to make a strong showing in the meet. The team will be led by senior Captain Dave Howald, who is expected to make a strong showing in the 100-yard butterfly.

The meet is an important event for the Beavers as they prepare for the upcoming New England Intercollegiate Swim Meet, which is set to take place later this month.
