Number Hoping For Peace Decrease
As War Threat Grows

After several weeks of intense debate on several major issues before the national election, the Technology student body steadfastly clings to its sentiment of not going to war unless the United States is attacked, as indicated by the results of The Tech Poll taken yesterday.

Comparison with the last poll, taken in October 13, 1941, reveals that 67.1% voted to last time and 63.6% voted against war this poll, a drop of 3.5% of those polled.

60% of the students who approved the country's position before the United States would be in the war in five months if the world that lasted long, although 64.5% felt that the United States should not declare war. These data represent an increase of 15% of the opinion that the United States would take direct action and a decrease of 2.3% of those who feel that they should.

Eric Hodgens '22
Is Guest Speaker At Senior Banquet

Professor Schafer Will Be The Speaker

And Introduce Speaker

Eric P. Hodgens, '22, publisher of Fortuna magazine, will be the guest speaker at the senior class banquet, to be held at 6:30 P.M. Thursday, June 6, in the Hotel Kenmore. Hodgens was announced last spring as Professor Albert A. Schafer, of the department of Business and Engineering Administration, to act as host and will introduce the speaker.

The correlations between schematic thinking and success of graduate study will probably be discussed by Mr. Hodgens, who was neither encouraged nor defeated in terms of cumulative evaluation while a student at the Institute.
