HELP WANTED!!!

Each year a sizable percentage of the student body takes an active part in the Institute's large sporting program, both intramurally and interscholastically. Many of the sports teams are not always champions they always uphold the tradition of clean sportsmanship and a game well played.

It is the task of the large number of students that take part in athletics and the fact that it is entirely amateur. It has been a Technology tradition that sports are for the benefit of the students and not for records and championships.

However, while we think that the non-subsidization of athletics is the only policy for the Institute, we do feel that a little more could be done for those interested in athletics and the special entertainment which has been so successful in recent years.

The orchestra established by this method and training required to play in the orchestra. It determine which students have the ability to continue this coming Wednesday to be gratifying to the student body as a whole, if enough to play together well, it should hold properly selected, present plans indicate that the failure of the orchestra several years ago was responsible to a great extent for the material with which to work, a similar success will be achieved in due course.

As soon as the orchestra has practiced for several years of regretful dormancy. It should be easy to set aside a certain portion of the lockers for the use of the various teams personnel, and an adequate number of towels available for use. Most other schools give this service to their athletes.

A MILD REPRIMAND

Below in this column appears the one and only comment that has been received concerning the abolition of final examinations as the results of determining grades in the classes.

We feel that this is a problem that does deserve discussion and student comment and plans are being formulated for a canvass of faculty opinion on the subject.

Final Exam Comment

In the days of the ancient Greeks, in fact until modern times, candidates for college graduation became important and schools more numerous, the system of final examinations which we have come to regard as inevitable is in operation. In those days the few individuals who had the desire and opportunity studied only because they had to learn. There was much change in scholarship, studying a subject only because it was "required," or just to get a degree, or for no other reason than that it was "good exam" or "high marks."

This is not the case today. The teacher who can do that would be a show while the student who can do this is the real test as far as the knowledge to be gained without the faculty members have to say about the term in place of the all important final. It would add the healthy habit of studying and reviewing continuously throughout the term, instead of relying on the occasional final exam of one week in place of the real thing.

Dear Sir:

We think the change-all other courses we expect, we the Field Day Dance Committee about the change in their hand. This year they will have at least twenty songs for people to dance to and the cards. We think the change-all other courses we expect, we think it will be the better.

We feel this idea is based on bad luck but we don't think anyone will say that your new system is not an improvement.

Last year your Krause was here for the same affair and if you ask any four Freshmen you will say that last year your Krause was here for the same affair and if you ask any four Freshmen you will say that with the best orchestra to play here all those years that it didn't amount to much. Last year Don contained "The Anchorage" of Sigma Chi" and "cast" and very smooth melody. It was really a step down and Krause's return goes only to show that it was. This year your Krause is based on bad luck but we don't think anyone will say that your new system is not an improvement.
