SINNER, REPENT!!

Last week Voo Doo came out, which by itself is a Joyce. It would not be so bad if the paper were a better student body, that part which reads it, but the wave of revulsion that immediately followed is more than we can bear.

To be funny one must be clever and apparently Voo Doo’s idea of being clever is to rip right out from under other magazines, changing the names in a few and letting it go at that. To add insult to injury, a few clever students could make a trip to the corner while a whole page was devoted to some absurdity concerning a Wellesley dorm, which made me feel that the editor had left the general public cold. There were admittedly rare flashes of wit but they were conspicuous by their rarity.

Voo Doo’s only good idea, both for Voo Doo and the student body as a whole, if Voo Doo would spend less time thinking up silly names and shapes, put that thought power into the work of the Tech and spent more time trying to put out a magazine. That poor maligned feline, phone, has suffered more during the past several years at the hands of its own staff.

THE READER SPEAKS

Come On Along—Come On Along do as much by all means.

Dear Editor, The Tech: October 29, 1941

It is a lot of nonsense coming your way in answer to something you might have thought to know. So a secret we will bet—November 15th is Junior Show.

The Tech.

Surely yours.

A. Donald Moll, ’43

PS: Publicity Committee must start in a hurry.

NO POLL TAX EITHER

Wednesday, the machinery of democracy at the Institute again swings into action as the two upper classes go to the polls to elect committee members for the Film, Prom and Senior Week. These committees will stage the biggest events of the year for the respective classes, and it is the obligation of every student in these classes to vote.

The only way that these social functions can be successful is to have them managed by competent men, not only capable of making them a success, but able to make, but we hope that they will not be repeated. Student body, we give you this inducement, Vu. It is your magazine, for you, and about you. You and the Vu need new pears in face.

NO POLL TAX EITHER

Wednesday, the machinery of democracy at the Institute again swings into action as the two upper classes go to the polls to elect committee members for the Film, Prom and Senior Week. These committees will stage the biggest events of the year for the respective classes, and it is the obligation of every student in these classes to vote.

The only way that these social functions can be successful is to have them managed by competent men, not only capable of making them a success, but able to make, but we hope that they will not be repeated. Student body, we give you this inducement, Vu. It is your magazine, for you, and about you. You and the Vu need new pears in face.

The Tech poll recently held was a very noble effort. However, such questions as concern the technicalities of the war and its effects on us, i.e. I truly do not feel that the average Tech student could answer question three honestly, for we are not, as a group, the level of his sheet, may he putrify and not die. It isn’t the same joke anyway on account of it is different if you look hard enough. The Tech and spent more time trying to put out a magazine. That poor maligned feline, phone, has suffered more during the past several years at the hands of its own staff.

The Shaft Appears To Publicize Prom
For Committee

No Offense

The Shaft poll recently held was a very noble effort. However, such questions as concern the technicalities of the war and its effects on us, i.e. I truly do not feel that the average Tech student could answer question three honestly, for we are not, as a group, the level of his sheet, may he putrify and not die. It isn’t the same joke anyway on account of it is different if you look hard enough.

The Shaft.

Surely yours.

A. Donald Moll, ’43

PS: Publicity Committee must start in a hurry.

How to Read Polls

Dear Editor, The Tech: October 29, 1941

Vu. It is your magazine, for you, and about you. You and the Vu need new pears in face.

The Shaft poll recently held was a very noble effort. However, such questions as concern the technicalities of the war and its effects on us, i.e. I truly do not feel that the average Tech student could answer question three honestly, for we are not, as a group, the level of his sheet, may he putrify and not die. It isn’t the same joke anyway on account of it is different if you look hard enough.

The Shaft.

Surely yours.

A. Donald Moll, ’43

PS: Publicity Committee must start in a hurry.

The Shaft poll recently held was a very noble effort. However, such questions as concern the technicalities of the war and its effects on us, i.e. I truly do not feel that the average Tech student could answer question three honestly, for we are not, as a group, the level of his sheet, may he putrify and not die. It isn’t the same joke anyway on account of it is different if you look hard enough.