Basketball Team Hopes To Avenge Last Year’s Loss To Harvard Univ.

The Beaver Hoopsters will begin the present season by endeavoring to erase the bitter memories of last year’s defeat at the hands of the Harvard team. The Beaver men were expected to win the contest, butKemneth McCARTHY, star guard of last year, stated that the present team is much stronger, and added that although Harvard always seem to be able to count on a strong team, the Beaver team has more than an even chance of winning. Members of the squad include former stars and a man to watch in this year’s college competition, as well as many hopefuls for next year's team.

Volleyball Games To Start Tuesday

The first game in the Beaver Volleyball series will be played Tuesday night at eight o'clock in the gymnasium. The team will play against Trinity, and is expected to win. The team is making good progress under the guidance of Coach Arla RYAN. The players are working hard to get the team ready for the big game on Tuesday.

Interclass Regatta Ends Postponed

Originally scheduled for last Saturday, the annual interclass regatta has been postponed, according to Kenneth R. W. WHITE, chairman of the regatta committee of the Nautical Association. The race, which will not be held until the spring, is the main event of the season and is eagerly anticipated by the Beaver crew. The weather was not favorable for the race, but the crew decided to postpone it until another day.

Cagers, Puckeys Prepare For Opening Tilts On Friday Against Harvard, Boston U.

The MITAA Football Committee has released a pronouncement which states that the varsity will meet Boston University at the Boston Arena on Friday afternoon. The game will be played at two-thirty o'clock. The varsity is expected to show some improvement over last year, and a victory is hoped for.

Hockey Squad In Top Shape; Strong Lineup Ready To Win

With only one practice to go before its opening game with Boston University on Friday night at the Boston Arena, the hockey team held a meeting last night at which the gentlemen were given tips on game management by coach George Owen. This game is a definite test for the team, as it attempts to reverse the bad luck which the Beaver suffered last year at the Vermonters’ hands. In a practice scrimmage with the Pine River Club, an organization of veteran hockey players, held at Northoston Tuesday, the team showed up fairly well. Although they lost in the face of strong opposition, the untried toes of this year’s scrimmage was much better than last year.

Two Full Teams

This year’s team is now divided into two well-rounded teams, with each unit being independent and capable of winning. The team is being prepared for its opening contest at Harvard on December 17, at the Harvard Gyn. This match will be followed by a meeting at the Hangar Gym on January 3, the Beavers will face Amherst for which they will engage Will last home at home. They wind up their season with a pair of away matches, one with Tufts on February 18, and the other at the twentieth at Springfield.

Fresh Show Promise

The outlook for the freshman team is equally bright, with outstanding possibilities for repetition of last year’s undefeated season. With several promising young teams on hand, Coach John Lutz should be able to assemble one of the best aggregations.

The freshmen open their schedule against the varsity in a home game in Harvard’s Hangar Gym on December 13. Following this, they will journey to Tufts for a meet on the seventeen of January. Their season will then continue against the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and then to the Columbus on February 21, and Governor Dumner Academy on February 24.
