Cheerleaders Unable To Appear At Harvard

Because of insufficient practice in group coordination on the necessary gymnastics, the MLL cheerleaders will be unable to participate in the Harvard basketball game against Havard at Harvard, on Friday night. A number of unforeseen problem has arisen during the informal practice sessions of the group which have shown that it is not yet ready for its first appearance.

The "会不会" , Melvin
H. Wood, '43, Lenore R. Reeske, F. L. West, and Arnold A. Dach, '43, are certain that technical difficulties will be bound to turn for their initial appearance at the Midday gym, on Candy Tuesday.

All-She-Ceng Begins Tonight
14 Groups Compete
For Silver Cup
in Mors Hall

Technology music lovers will attend the first All-She-Ceng, on Friday, at 8:30 p.m. in Mors Hall.

Fourteen groups, the Glee Club, Theological Orchestra, and the Tech-teams will combine their talents in one affair. The Classical Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Henry Jackson Warren, will open the program with the Mignuette overture, by Baumann. Six of the competitions will then present their bid for the silver cup.

"The Poacher"

Following this the MLL Glee Club will offer "The Poacher," British folk-song. Next selections will be offered by the other competitors. The presentation of the silver cup to the win-ing group is the last event of the affair, while a dance will conclude the evening and the music of the Tech-tenors.

The groups which will compete are:
Lambeth Chi Alpha, the 1 A 1 Club, Beta Theta Pi, the Graduate Choir, the Theology Christian Association, Sigma Alpha Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, the Association of Women Students, Phi Beta Pi, the Student Honor Council, Phi Delta Theta, Peer Review, Sigma Delta Theta.

"PRAY, FAIR LADY . . ."

The following opera, "PRAY, FAIR LADY," is presented at a recital on Charles Street. The conserted forces of the Boston Opera Company will present "PRAY, FAIR LADY," which is an adaptation of "The Poacher," English folk-song. Tickets will be sold at all entrances of the playhouse.

The Tech is Host
For Football Party
Beer Prize to be Given Victors of Last Month’S
Coldfinger

"Ever true to its promises, The Tech will throw a beer party for Victors of the last month’s
Coldfinger."

The beer party will be held tonight, Monday, December 10, at the Hangar. Tickets will be $2.25 for men, $1.75 for women.

A number of unforeseen problem has arisen in the preparation of this beer party, but Tech students will make every effort to make this a most memorable evening.

By doing so they will become acquainted with the government of to their own destiny. "It is obvious from the fact that they are changing the femen
