CALANDER
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9
1:00 P.M. Japanese Lecturer—Room 10-250.
3:00 P.M. Japanese Lecturer—Room 10-250.
5:00 P.M. Freewill Council Meeting—Room 5-108.
6:00 P.M. University Home Dinner—Main Dining Room, Grad. House.
7:00 P.M. I.A.M. Meeting—Faculty Lounge.
8:30 P.M. Hockey, M.I.T. vs. Northeastern—Boston Arena.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10
5:00 P.M. Glee Club Opera—Room 10-190.
5:00 P.M. Robert Northrup Society Meeting—Room 6-115.
5:00 P.M. Outing Club Skiing Movie—Rooms 5-109.
5:00 P.M. Alpha Phi Omega Meeting—Tyler Lounge.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11
2:00 P.M. A.A.S. Meeting—Room 10-250.
9:10 P.M. Technology Dance and Matrons' Dance—Hapner Gym.
10:30 P.M. A. Chen. Reception—Morse Hall.

Fernstrom
(Continued from Page 1)
A striking effect of the war upon English classes was given over to the quiz marks may be spelled in a nervous excitement 8.03 quiz were promptly dis- the work of the Fifth Column which has not yet been lifted. In-true large scale projection of the present situation they un-resent the need for the ships to be produced at the rate of approximately one a month. President Fernstrom reports that the twenty-five Technology students working on the job are maintaining the traditions of the Institution.

Trivialities of Crisis
(Continued from Page 1)
ence with which the war has been enforced. It is extremely sightful to see the war come and I think that it was rather fu-drastic to let the Japs do to what they did. I also expect Germany to declare war within the next few weeks.

In the course of the day, many English classes were given over to discussions of the war, and more than one war quiz was postponed be- cause of it. Monday morning quarterbacks with the tremendous expansion of the Pacific over which the beam had a field day with the news reports.

Among other gentle reflections of the news was this gem which appeared on the bulletin board of the 5-15 Club.

NOTICE: A STATE OF WAR NOW EXISTS BETWEEN JAPAN AND THE 5:15 CLUB. HENCEFORTH ALL CLUB MEMBERS SHOULD WORK IN ORDER TO OVERCOME THIS MENACE. (Appended to this note were several suggestions for carrying out the general tenor of the order, as well as a happy note from Emperor Hirohito).

A striking effect of the war upon Technology was the increase in uniformed personnel, brought about by orders from the nation's capital.

Inquiring Reporter
(Continued from Page 1)
Roosevelt has been waiting for—

"—Albert F. Ciser, Jr., 43, General Manager of The Tech, "It appears that the Japs have solved the placement problem of the Class of '42.

"—James A. Mallock, 43, "The one thing we have to do is look at the Japs entirely and completely, and we must be all set behind the effort to ac-lish that end. This should be our only purpose in mind."

"—Oscar Hedlund, Technology's truck sage, "My athletes can take any foreign nation after an Oscar Hedlund special conditioner training. I cannot, however, predict the score for this contest."

"—Raymond F. Frankel, Jr., 43, president of the Debating Society, "I was surprised to see the war come and I think that it was rather foolish of the Japans to do what they did."

"—Oscar Hedlund, Technology's truck sage, "My athletes can take any foreign nation after an Oscar Hedlund special conditioner training. I cannot, however, predict the score for this contest."

"—Robert E. Flug, '42, of the Dormitory Committee, "I'd like to get started, and I guess the best we can do is to keep plugging and see if we can take it that degree before get-in the first place."

"—J. Kemp Maple, '43, "I guess we all can do is look at the stuffings out of Japan and get ready for Germany."

"—John E. Flyn, '42, of the Dormitory Committee, "I'd like to get started, but I guess the best we can do is to keep plugging and see if we can take it that degree before get-
in the first place."

"—Robert E. Schaefer, '43, Secrettuary treasurer of the Junior Class, "The Japs will have to use a lot more than surprise to win this war."

"—Mary E. Langdon, Wellesley, '43, "I don't know much about the Japs at all, but I think that they'll win this war."

"—Raymond F. Frankel, Jr., 43, president of the Debating Society, "I was surprised to see the war come and I think that it was rather foolish of the Japans to do what they did."