Puckmen Face Bowdoin, Colby

Beavers Have Six Games To Play, Have Lost Six

After a month's vacation from the competition, the puckmen are ready to go for it. As the season's first double-header opened this weekend, the team entered the match against Wesleyan.

Bowdoin and Colby are the two teams that the Beavers faced this weekend. The match was played at the Bowdoin rink, and the Beavers came out victorious with a score of 7-3.

The Beavers have won six games this season, but have also lost six. They are currently ranked 10th in the New England League, which is the second highest in the country. The team's next game is against the rival Tufts University, who also have a strong record.

Despite their recent losses, the Beavers are determined to bounce back and continue their winning streak. The team is currently practicing hard to prepare for their upcoming games.

Oscar Advises Students To Indulge In Sports

Oscar has also advised students to engage in sports, especially those who have been away from active participation due to the winter months. He believes that sports are important for maintaining a healthy lifestyle and building discipline.

In recent years, the Tech Basketball team has achieved great success, with several members being selected for the All-American team. The team is currently practicing hard to prepare for the upcoming season.

Riflemen Break Institute Record

The riflemen broke the Institute record in a postal match against the N.Y.A.C. The record was set by the team in 1942.

The team's performance was exceptional, and they broke the record by a large margin. The team members are now training hard to maintain their momentum and set new records in the upcoming matches.

An exciting match was also held between the Cross country and track teams. The track team emerged victorious, with the team members setting new personal bests and breaking records.

The riflemen continue to train hard to prepare for the upcoming season and set new records. The team members are determined to maintain their high level of performance and achieve great success in the upcoming matches.
