Debaters Meet B.U. Today
Ulmer Takes Second in Pan-American Talks
Technology varsity debaters met B. U. this afternoon at 3:15 on the subject: "Resolved: That the federal government should be given the power to regulate labor unions." The Institute will be represented by Lee Hansner, '46, and John J. Rueckert, '45.

During the past few days, the Debating Society has had two practice, pressing and exacting debates. Charles M. Wurzel and Robert F. Hart, '46, object to the only dis- cussant, debate of the group in a squad from R. P. I. In the subse- quent debates, John W. Calfee and Lee Hansner, and Robert C. Jahn and William X. Lane, debated against Tufts and B. U. respecti- vely.

James G. Ulmer, Jr., '45, more Technology representative for Bos- ton University's pan-American day, took second place in the intercol- legiate extemporaneous discussion contest, which was held there re- cently.

Ulmer is now scheduled to go to New York City for the regional tournament, and the winner of the National Tournament is to receive a free trip around South America.

"The contest was divided into two parts. In the afternoon there were three round tables of about eight men. Two representatives were selected from each round table for the glory of the personal contest. This consisted of a group of extemporaneous speeches on various phases of pan-Americanism. It was here that Ulmer placed second.

Maxwell, George L. Nelson, Raymond H. Richardson, Frederick O. Smith, William H. Thurston, Jr., Arthur S. Vazharian, Philip D. Wilson, Jr. all Juniors. These men bring the total membership to thirty seniors and thirteen Juniors.

Professor Schudel was elected to honorary membership because of his contributions to his department and his place in the field of engineering education. Professor Schudel graduated from the Institute in 1912 as a mechanical engineer. He has published numerous articles of an industrial nature and was awarded the Gilchrist Medal in 1938 by the Society for the Ad- vancement of Management for his contributions in that field.

In addition to his academic con- tributions, professor Schudel is one of the god-fathers of the National Association, being one of the six mem- bers of the institute in the establish- ment of the National Association of Electrical Engineering and the large fleet of dignitaries for which the In- stitute is famous in collegiate circles. His interest in other stu- dent activities has been notable.
