Every year freshmen have reported for Cross Country and the majority of the boys who have reported are novices. However, before the season is over, they become excellent runners and by the time the Cross Country meets are shown to be of great value.

Writing, Drafting Comes Easier

By Mrs. Isabelle Danielson

There are many ways of making writing and drafting easier, and one very popular is to use a special pencil. This pencil is like a regular pencil except that it has a large, comfortable handle that can be gripped firmly. The lead in this pencil is also special, being softer and blunter than the lead in a regular pencil. This makes it easier to write with, especially for people who have had difficulty in holding a pencil properly in the past. Another advantage of this pencil is that it can be used for drawing as well as writing. The lead is harder and sharper than the lead in a regular pencil, so it can be used for fine lines and details. This pencil is available in most stationery stores, and is reasonably priced. It is a great help to anyone who needs to write or draw regularly. The writer, Mrs. Isabelle Danielson, is a teacher and author who has written many books on the subject of writing and drafting. She is currently working on a new book on the subject, which will be published next year.
