The errand, in the opinion of the Yu photographer, was that of the freshman who was required to get kissed by (a) a Tech co-ed, (b) a Radcliffe girl, and (c) a queen of Boston's not-too-legitimate stage. The enterprising freshman, shown above in various stages, is a budding Entertainment Engineer.

Not the least among the reasons behind the sadistic effort of sophomore class in the dormitories to harass the luckless freshman prior to Field Day, we feel, is the hope that the frosh may enervate themselves so enervated by their exploits of the night before they are unable to put their whole soul into beating forty-five.

A sophomore reaches high to keep that pass away from the grasping fingers of nearby freshmen. The tie in the football game clinched the sophomore victory.
