THE DORMS I-A IN THE DRAFT

The entire Senior House and three undergraduate dorms are to become unavailable for student use in the near future and there is a real question to what those who may be inadvertently impacted by this new move. The announcement by the Dormitory Committee makes the situation clear and also emphasizes the fact that current students will be moved elsewhere at no cost to themselves, according to a member of the committee.

As in all matters pertaining to war exigencies, and indeed as has been the case heretofore, cooperation by all concerned will solve this problem.

It might be an interesting opportunity for the fraternity of the Institute to extend the full measure of cooperation by inviting dormitory men to live at the houses either as members or as residents. If this should not add to the fact that, when the R.C. is called, many of the houses will find themselves insolvent and thus be unable to function as a housing unit.

Another way to help relieve this pressing problem has been suggested by the Dormitory Committee: namely, that the process of this problem be extended generally. As a matter of fact, the idea has gone beyond the stage of mere suggestion and will be the accepted procedure if and when such action becomes necessary. Naturally, such a move would require a certain amount of readjustment, but in the face of the tremendous readjustment our country is undergoing such a change becomes inevitable.

The lack of storage space indicates that students will have to select only those clothes and books and personal effects that are absolutely necessary. Within another week, however, there will be on campus available, the Victory Book Campaign, whose director at the Institute has been undertaken by Mrs. Horace Ford. This campaign has repeatedly proved its technical as well as financial assistance for the benefit of service men. Here would be an excellent opportunity to dispose of unused books for a worthy cause.

Unneeded furniture, too, will have to be shipped away. In keeping with the spirit of cooperation it seems fitting to offer such furniture to various U.S.O. organizations throughout the Metropolitan Area who have asked for these much needed items. It has often been said that such actions are the least we can do.

THE NAVY IS AT TECH, TOO

The following excerpt from the Editorial columns of the Chronicle is apropos of this unique situation to which the students of this university are undoubtedly partake. We offer it with no remarks as to "moralis-to-be-gained" or "lessons-to-be-learned," but just as it stands with this overclouded sky. What has been your attitude?

Plaing his feet cautiously in the icy cuts, a Freshman shone across Mass Avenue toward Hayes-Bickford. It was cold and he had 12 more pages of Thompson and Johnson. As he neared the sidewalk something fell away from a dark figure in front of him. It was one of the Navy men, who'd dropped a book. The former Freshman looked down at the book with the stocking cap on, and picked up the book and handed it to them. Both went into Hayes-Bickford, and walking in the Freshman went to his dormitory.

After he'd bought and eaten two toasted cinnamon and a cup of coffee, the Freshman pushed his cost against, and started out. The New England man was cold, and was putting on his gloves when the old-type Yardling walked through the second swing door. The officer, waiting turned around. He hesitated, "I want to shake your hand," he said. "I've been in this three months and you're the first Harvard man that's spoken to me."
