Relay Team Takes Mile Event in Millrose Games

Hall, Kelley, Bryant, and Walker Take Up Victorious Quartet

Triumphing over Colgate, Penn, Pennsylvania and Columbia the Beaver hockey team captured its last indoor title of the year in the two-mile run with a time of 9:02.2. In the classic Wanda versus struggling Marist, the Beaver were able to reach but thirteen of the fourteen relay poles. Principal speaker at the presentation was held in the Beaver cause. Professor P. H. Fry, Head of the Department of Physical Education, who directed and who therefore can be considered the author of this victory, will continue to do this one day each week until the end of May 1943.

Dr. Compton’s Speech

As candidate for degrees in the special training along technical lines of great importance for the effective prosecution of the war, even those who are finding education along the same basic lines for which they have chosen to come to us in the army, should like to concentrate on the morning on just one aspect of the situation which I know to be true and which I would like to show you. Some of them feel bewildered and uncertain of the course they are taking. They have been working hard to secure a training which will be the basis of the future for useful and happy career, and now they are just beginning to understand the depth of the world of our choices. Both feelings are of diagnoses: they are likely to come to a professional school, for example, and there may be other students whose careers are not yet directed and who therefore can be more easily changed. But these prospectors were not surprised at the. result of these questions: ‘What’s the use?’ Through no fault of our own, we have all been made to believe that what I have to say has nothing to do with the present thoughts or worries of this discussion.

Let me therefore direct our thoughts toward the future, as it is proper at a certain time in college; not as a monsoon;’ looking to the future, to graduation, to the graduate school, to the future vocation. When a man begins to think more of the past than of the future, there is a sign of disorganization in the student, an indication that his mind is a characteristic of youth and vigor. When a man begins to think more of the past than of the future, it is a sign of intelligence. Another way of looking at it is that a person may find some comfort in recollections of past associations and experiences, or on the other hand, may suffer more from recollections of past troubles, and while all his past is on the foundation on which his future lies, there is a small possibility of the future that gives any sign to its sport that th easts. ‘How will it be? How will it be? How will it be?’

So let us take a look ahead to the future, and let us try to picture as many ways of looking at it as we can. If we are progressing, this is a sign of intelligence. Another way of looking at it is that a person may find some comfort in recollections of past associations and experiences, or on the other hand, may suffer more from recollections of past troubles, and while all his past is on the foundation on which his future lies, there is a small possibility of the future that gives any sign to its sport that th easts. ‘How will it be? Bettes Named Hockey Captain

Varsity Award Received By Kaneh

Dick Bettes, left wing and slant performer of this season’s Beaver hockey team was elected captain of that team for the remainder of the current campaign and next year’s schedule. A key hold-up in the Beaver lineup on January 29, Bettes replaces Fred Kaneh, stellar defenseman, who led this year’s squad, and was chosen by the team to receive the Varsity Club award in recognition of his assistance in the Beaver cause.

Principally a center player at the position, which was held at the Smith House on Memorial Day, were Paul Bremley, Boston South, and former member of the Chicago Blackhawks. Coach Owen and assistant coach “Prep” La Croix also spoke to the members of the squad.

Captain Bettes has played two years of varsity hockey, having filled the left wing slot on the first line since his sophomore year. He did not see action until late this season because of a jaw injury but he returned the smile which bespeaks the value of the season for the squad. In the contest against the Boston University terriers in which Bettes returned to play the Beaver pucks a rendered a positive effect with dyed with a 2-1 defeat to their opponents.

Bettes who is studying Mechanical Engineering was equipped with a perfect skating line than to other types of students. Chosen for the captaincy was Glenn Bremley, Boston South.
