350 Couples Will Make Merry At Hotel Bradford Starting At 9:30 Tonight

No Tickets Will Be Sold At Door By Dance Committee

The Boyt-Frost from which the students will be served on Monday, famous in every student home on May 5th, promises to be one of the standout events of the student season. The decision as to whether the venue and time had been made by the committee to give the students an added evening of entertainment is a very enjoyable time tonight in the lounge of the Hotel Bradford in downtown Boston.

Among the added entertainments will be the Marquise, who will serve as maids of honor for the remainder of the evening dinner. A door prize will be drawn by chance at the end of the evening, but the nature of the prize has not been revealed by the committee, any only that any will be a "doggie".

Major Activities Plan To Continue Despite hardships

Student Organizations Reveal Future Plans

As Inst. Comm. Meets

The technical activities announced last night that they would continue as long as possible. The Six-Club Committee, after the regularly meeting tonight, will continue to meet, and a special meeting yesterday in Litchfield Lofts, where Class A activities were held to get the members of the Institute in fraternal meetings was given, and Peterson explained that because of the rules to the chairman of the Institute, the matter in it would be restricted to officers for the various houses on the campus. The next meeting of the I.F.C. will be held early July.

Committers Elect Four New Officers

Dolan, Anehker, Little

Tommy P. Doolan, III, 94, was elected President of the Student Council. Thomas P. Dolan, III, 94, who was acting president, was nominated for the Glee Club, M.I.T.A.A., and T.E.N. officers. These elections were approved by the Institute Committee at its meeting last night, and, if accepted, will be the last for the summer term. These elections will be held early July.

Special Technique Price Will Be Raised Tomorrow

The special $3.40 offer for the Technical News will be changed, and also the $2.50 offer for the Technical News will be raised to $2.50 to $3.00. The yearbook is scheduled to appear in July, while the price of the Technical News will be raised to $2.50.

Lamb' Chi Frog Derby Upholds Calaveras County Tradition

Did you know that tomorrow is the anniversary of the Jumping Frog Derby of Calaveras County? Probably few readers look forward to the duck races, but none of those who have read it will forget Mark Twain's famous story. Probably few could beat him with the windmill, Blinn Wheeler, of the Bay Area, and other local people who have been entering våggrund, Jim Sales, at the 1938 derby. Sales said that his duck had been bred by an adversary in a matter of personal pride. No technical points had set aside, still, ignoring the usual course, hearing like a Frenchman, indirectly refusing to transport a pound of quail shot over the usual size of the containers. It is probable that some of the residents of the area are, in fact, proud to be called the "Tongue, nose and tail of the Wasa."
