I was at a meeting of the Quadrangle Clubs last Monday night. Six new members were elected who had been accused from a larger group invited to a party held at the Hotel Kenmore. All of them were present and voted on the affair. With the addition of these new members, the organization has tightened up on freshman. Those feeling their lives around the campus feel that it is possible to become even more vigilant in the few weeks left. It is known that every freshman knows that the time is, that the week at times and therefore has no means for not wearing it. If anyone is found without it, he will be asked to leave the club at its meeting.
