Debating Society
Has Busy Mouth
Team Loses To Clark,
Wins Over Dartmouth
During the past month the M.T.Y. Debating Team has been busy, participating in six debates. They have won three and lost two, and have shown great promise in the future.

On January 31, there was an informal debate with Middlebury at Ridgeline, Vermont. The debate was the first debate of the year in which the team had to face a new difficulty with their chairs, which they were not used to.

On February 3, Wallace and Kelley represented Technology in a debate with Middlebury College, Vermont. The debate was held in the Imperial Ballroom of thehotel Vendome. It will be a strictly stag affair, and beer and other refreshments will be served.

The final cog in the Senior Week will be held on Thursday afternoon, February 26, at 5:00 P.M. in the Faculty Lounge. The final cog will be delivered by Major General Col.
