L.F.C. Planned For Statler On May 12th
Vote Not To Sponsor Fraternity Parties;
3 Houses Sponsor Own

At the regular meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Conference held last night, the Smith House, presided over by Carroll W. Boyd, former head of the Dance Committee, that the L.F.C. Dance will be held on May 17 in the Rondel Ballroom. The general ticket sale will begin on April 16. As presented, a band contract has not been signed.

After hearing a favorable report by Charles F. Sire, 5-40, Treasurer; Gene I. C. C.-34, as in support to Robert Hodder, representing the M.I.T. Blood Drive, the discussion immediately turned to the subject of the dance and L.F.C. sponsored parties. A motion was passed to hold the dance in every Saturday night, as the ballroom had already been arranged. After passed a budget, which, with the additional cost of sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.

Prof. Fales Talks On Auto Industry

Professor Dean A. Fales spoke at the term's first meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering student branch of the Flogg Art Museum, of Harvard University, at 32 Quincy Street, Cambridge.

"Energy and Vision," by Dr. Selig Hecht, is one of the Sigma Xi sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.

Prof. Fales Talks On Auto Industry

Professor Dean A. Fales spoke at the term's first meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering student branch of the Flogg Art Museum, of Harvard University, at 32 Quincy Street, Cambridge.

"Energy and Vision," by Dr. Selig Hecht, is one of the Sigma Xi sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.

Prof. Fales Talks On Auto Industry

Professor Dean A. Fales spoke at the term's first meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering student branch of the Flogg Art Museum, of Harvard University, at 32 Quincy Street, Cambridge.

"Energy and Vision," by Dr. Selig Hecht, is one of the Sigma Xi sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.

Prof. Fales Talks On Auto Industry

Professor Dean A. Fales spoke at the term's first meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering student branch of the Flogg Art Museum, of Harvard University, at 32 Quincy Street, Cambridge.

"Energy and Vision," by Dr. Selig Hecht, is one of the Sigma Xi sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.

Prof. Fales Talks On Auto Industry

Professor Dean A. Fales spoke at the term's first meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering student branch of the Flogg Art Museum, of Harvard University, at 32 Quincy Street, Cambridge.

"Energy and Vision," by Dr. Selig Hecht, is one of the Sigma Xi sponsored parties, would make the admission price to the Friday night affair run approximately the same as previous dances.

No Sponsored Parties

The question of sponsored parties brought on considerable discussion which seemed favorable in all cases. But they were voted down on the basis that the L.F.C. was footing a large portion of the bill. It was felt that the parties were people were entertained while not possessing enough knowledge of the nature of their parties, and that the fact that sponsored parties would raise the price of the entire entertainment also helped pass the motion. Following this, it was announced that they expect to entertain on May 13 between 10. P. M. and 2. A. M. It appears that Saturday night will still be a big affair.

Robert B. Hulstrom, 4-45, was elected Member-at-large to conclude the meeting.

Quadrum Club Elects Officers

The recently elected Quadrum Club held its first meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21, Graham Maclin, 4-45, opened the meeting by saying the purpose of the club is to acquaint the members and acquaint all the accomplishments of the Q Club.

Following this, the new officers of the club were elected. Edward J. H. 4-44, chosen President; William G. C. 4-45, Vice President; James B. Craig, 3-44, Secretary and Herbert M. 4-44, Treasurer.

It was decided that the present elections made no changes in the positions until April 4. At the beginning of the term, the officers will meet and resign their offices, and the directors will continue to control the ties until the results of Field Day are determined.