No matter how hard a task is assigned to you, everyone can do it. As long as the task is tackled, you can do it. Everyone has a talent that can be used in this work. By skill, ability, and effort, we can do it. Everyone has the potential to become great at work. We all have the ability to achieve.