DORM ATHLETICS

The Dormitory athletic activities start in full swing this weekend with the beginning of the softball tournament. The tournament will be on the basis of elimination and is restricted to six teams, one from each of the dorms. The first games, scheduled for three o’clock this Sunday are as follows: Wood vs. Goodale, Walcott vs. Munroe, and Hayden vs. Bemis.

The Dorm tennis tournament will start this Saturday, with the deadline for signing up being Friday. The tournament will be run in two divisions; the first division for all undergraduate students barring varsity players, and the second division for all graduate students, officers, and Senior House officers.

Company Nine Takes Third

In the game which decided third place, Company 9 took over Company 10 to the tune of 9-0. The winner had little trouble and handed the defeat to their excellent pitcher, pie. However, it was hard hitting by Harrington and the others put the winning runs across a plate.

C. Plans Trip to Walden Pond

A bicycle trip to Walden Pond is a principal Outing Club event planned for this weekend. The trip will meet at 9:30 A. M. this day in front of Walker Memorial. Those making the trip should stop at both lunches and swimming suits.

Beaver Key Elimination In Softball Tournament Entering Second Round

Pi Lambda Phi Victor Over Theta Delta Chi By 30-13 Final Score

The Beaver Key Softball League has again become active, as the second round of the elimination tournament got under way over this past week-end. The games are being played on week-days after school, as well as on Saturday and Sunday, in an effort to finish the competition before the opening of the football season. As a result of this speed-up schedule, three games were played, and others are planned for the near future.

The highest total score posted so far in the tournament was concocted Wednesday when Phi Epsilon and Kappa Sigma got together and pushed 51 runs across the plate in an eight inning game. This total was mainly due to darkness, which fell just at the end of the seventh inning, with the score tied at 14 all. In the first half of the eighth inning, with the probability rapidly decreasing, the Phi Beta crossed seventeen times, to run their total to 31 runs. The third out put an end to their activity, and the Kappa Sig started out to equal that mark, but falling short after a seven run outburst had brought their total up to 21 runs.

In the darkness and the withering cross-fire of hits, several men stood out on each side. For the Phi Beta Epsilon outfit, it was Bickford at shortstop, and Sherman on the mound, although evening nullified most of his good work. Brown in the outfield, with his accurate throws to the plate, and Flime, another pitcher who was victimized by the gathering gloom, both stood out for the Kappa Sigs.
