SENIOR WEEK NEWS

Number two in the series of traditional events of Senior Week is the Senior Ball. It is to be held on Friday, October 27, from 9:00 P.M. to 2:00 A.M. in the Georgian Room of the Statler Hotel. The Georgian Room is located in the mezzanine of the hotel, and is one of the nicest rooms at the Statler. The Senior Week Committee has announced that the band is still an unsettled question. The attendance at the dance is expected to be around two hundred couples. As well as having table and waiter service, refreshments will also be served. The number two event of Senior Week promises to fulfill the traditions of the past and be one of the most memorable nights of Senior Week.

Beaver Key Race Nears Completion

Activity in the Beaver Key Softball Tournament has slackened with the approach of Fall, and there are no games to report for the past week. With two teams already in the round-robin, and a single game remaining to decide the third finalist, the tournament is in its last stages, and it is hoped that all the games can be played before the beginning of the Beaver Key Football Elimination, the first games of which are scheduled about a month from this date.

Some of the important contests, which will be played in the next week are the Phi Kappa Sigma versus Theta Chi till, and the Phi Sigma Kappa play-off game with Phi Gamma Delta. The first, to be played next Tuesday, will decide the third member of the finals, and the second game, at the present scheduled for Sunday, will be the first play-off game of this season.
