Result Hangs In Doubt
Until Final Race; W.P.I.
Swims Here Tomorrow

By triumphing in the final event, the 400-yard relay, the M.I.T. varisty swimming team last Saturday challenged a thrilling 43-32 victory over Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in the Alumni Pool. Entering the last race, Tech held a four-point lead, which would have been wiped out by the seven markers awarded to the winner if R.P.I. had taken the relay; after Chabot had yielded about five yards to his opponent in the first 100. However, Callahan, Foust, and Smith swam home in extreme time to nose out the R.P.I. combination by ten yards. The time was three minutes, 55.6 seconds.

After Tech had won the opening 300-yard medley, the opponents fought ahead by virtue of victories in the 220 and 50-yard freestyle.
Eisenhardt and Goldfarb then restored Tech's margin by excelling in the diving, but R.P.I. retaliated by taking first and second in the 100-yard freestyle. M.I.T. immediately wiped out the three-point deficit, however, when Mumford and O'Shea led the field in the 150-yard backstroke and Buckman and Morgan finished first and second in the 200-yard breaststroke.

R.P.I. Wins 440

With the scales definitely tipped in favor of Tech, the visitors reasserted themselves by picking up eight points in the 440-yard freestyle. Thus the stage was set for the closing relay, with Tech two points short of victory.

Hewson number three; Ralph-
