Bull-Session Dinner
Planned For Dorms
Each Group Will Dine
With Member Of Staff

A bull-session dinner sponsored by the Dinner Committee of the Dormitory Committee is now being planned for dormitory undergraduates and will be held Wednesday, January 31, at 5:00 P.M. in Pritchett Hall, Walker Memorial. A definite number of staff members will be present as accommodations are limited to 7 groups of 7 students and a professor, and 3 groups of 5 students and a professor.

Activity at a bull-session dinner is limited to conversation on subjects of general interest to the group, preferably not pre-arranged, and every effort is made toward keeping the discussion an informal free-for-all. Each of the groups of 5 or 7 dormitory residents is voluntarily formed and will involve a staff member of its own choice with whom to dine. Each group is responsible for the issuance of an informal verbal invitation and the usual courtesies extended to a guest.

The cost of the dinner will be $1.50 per plate, 50c of which will be paid by the Dormitory Committee. For information on how to arrange a dinner group, J. Spencer Standish, 8-45, Chairman of the Dinner Committee should be contacted.

Tech Morale And Morals
Descend To New Depths

It's unfair! The haggard mass of students turn toward the conclusion of the term wearily reaching for respite and relaxation, and are snatched instead the newest issue of Voo Doo, which emerged today, grappling the unwary with a seductive and misleading cover. Clutching worn coins in their grimy paws, they shuffled over to the sales counter, hardly glancing at the flushed and flustered secretaries turning from the same counter after being refused a copy on the grounds that they are unchaperoned, deposit the coin slowly and hide the magazine under their tattered lab aprons.

Afterward, when alone, each will peruse it, spending long hours gazing at a poem about a mountain landscape with pictures, an "arty" photographe of a girl "without a soul" and some drawings on the theme of this issue which begins with an "E."

We say no more.
