OUR PRICE IS BEER
State of Massachusetts County of Middlesex . as City (?) of Cambridge ...

WHEREAS, it has come to our attention that a certain low, lown, and pernicious aggregation calling itself Voo Doo, which has for years striven mightily but fruitlessly to exceed the well-known The Tech in matters of mind and literary effort, has emerged again to challenge The Tech to a softball contest, and

WHEREAS, said The Tech deserts the plebeian aspirations of said Voo Doo, but, nevertheless, is willing further to demonstrate the superiority of The Tech over Voo Doo in all things, including athletic endeavors in general and softball games in particular,

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Known that The Tech does now and by these presents:

1. Accept the challenge of Voo Doo to a softball game to be held at such time and place as the General Managers of the two publications may set and determine;
2. Invite all underseers, stretcher bearers, ambulance drivers, and Tech men to view the humiliation and extermination of those pseudo-intellectuals, those aspirin and Moxie addicts, Voo Doo; under the following conditions and restrictions:
   a. Our price is beer, to be consumed during the game. We fully realize that the sight of a beer bottle cap would stretch the whole Voo Doo staff out under the nearest table, but we will be lenient to those who can actually stand one swallow before leaving the game. At any rate, Coca-Cola and 7-Up are out;
   b. The price of defeat to Voo Doo will be the ceiling price of one keg of beer, which will be used to "refuel" the players during the contest, as well as even greater loss of prestige. A complete realization of the depths to which they have sunk will be forced upon the Voo Doo staff, although we realize that their coagulated domes are of the texture and hardness of paving bricks.

WITNESS the hand of the General Manager of The Tech and its seal duly attested by its Managing Editor in the City (?) of Cambridge in the County of Middlesex and State of Massachusetts, this seventh day of September, 1945.
