nego, the plebeian aspirations of said Voo Doo, which has for years striven mightily but fruitlessly to excel the well-known Tech in matters of mind and literary effort, has emerged again to challenge the Tech to a softball contest, and

WHEREAS, said The Tech decries the plebeian aspirations of said Voo Doo, but, nevertheless, is willing further to demonstrate the superiority of The Tech over Voo Doo in all things, including athletic endeavors in general and softball games in particular,

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Known that The Tech does now and by these presents:

1. Accept the challenge of Voo Doo to a softball game to be held at such time and place as the General Managers of the two publications may set and determine.
2. Invite all undertakers, stretcher bearers, ambulance drivers, and Tech men to view the humiliation and extermination of those pseudo-intellectuals, those aspirin and Moxie addicts, Voo Doo; under the following conditions and restrictions:
   a. Our price is beer, to be consumed during the game. We fully realize that the sight of a beer-bottle cap would stretch the whole Voo Doo staff out upon the nearest table, but we will be lenient to those who can actually stand one swallow before leaving the game. At any rate, Coca-Cola and 7-Up are out.
   b. The price of defeat to Voo Doo will be the billing price of one keg of beer, which will be used to “refuel” the players during the contest, as well as even greater loss of prestige. A complete realization of the depths to which they have sunk will be forced upon the Voo Doo staff, although we realize that their coagulated domes are of the texture and hardiness of paving bricks.

WITNESS the hand of the General Manager of The Tech and its seal duly attested by its Managing Editor in the City (?) of Cambridge in the County of Middlesex and State of Massachusetts, this seventh day of September, 1945.

Voo Doo, which has for years striven but alas . . . nothing happened that could possibly amaze him more than what had already transpired. All they did was drown their sorrows in something which looked like root beer but was probably moxie.

Glee Club

College of Providence is to be held on Saturday, September 22, in Moros Hall. The dance is open to all who wish to come, and tickets for it will be on sale shortly. The Techonians are to furnish the rhythms.

Other concerts for the remainder of the term have been planned, and the club has already started work on Handel’s “The Messiah,” in preparation for a series of concerts at Christmas.

Enoch Light

Theaters, and hotels from coast to coast. He is noted for his smooth-flowing, danceable, and refreshingly different music. This year the band smashed all records at the Bowman Room of the Biltmore Hotel, one of Manhattan’s most popular dancing spots. Besides playing for dancing, they proved their versatility by rendering a well-balanced background for the Bowman Room’s ice show, including 25 dances of tempo for a standing black walnut.

Among the other top-ranking spots at which Light has been featured are the Paramount and Loew’s State theaters in New York, Hotels McAlpin and Taft in New York, the Steel Pier at Atlantic City, the Royal Plaza Hotel at Miami Beach, and the Ritz Hotel in Paris, France. The band has also appeared on Victor and Bluebird waxings and has

Blue Hills Trip Sponsors By East and West Associatio

Friday, September 7

The M.I.T. East and West Association is planning an outing to Blue Hills for its members this September 9. The group will meet in the Burton Room of the dormitories at 1:30 P.M. Transportation is being arranged for officers of the association. All members wishing to be included on this trip are requested to sign up on the notices which are posted on the bulletin boards at the entrance to the Dormitory office and leaving 10.

Tech International On To Discuss Pacific Island

A panel discussion on the islands, particularly the Philippines and their problems will be held at the next meeting of the International Club Wednesday, September 12, at 3:30 P.M. in Little Lounge.

This discussion is one in a series on important foreign nations and areas. The past two weeks have witnessed discussions on China, India. All students and faculty members are welcome.

Light is well-known for his standing arrangements of all of numbers, and many songs including Cole Porter, have been introduced by his band to introduce a new way of playing a medley of his own arrangements. The popular Tech orchestra at the dance.

The band features Light, the Light Brigade group, and Leslie James, the exuberant girl vocalist. Last spring the maestro introduced a radio program, “Date with the Band,” with a novel and participatory show. A visitor to the program came into the lounge and made vocal or instrumental additions to the band. Each program was a new show, and provided an opportunity for anyone to join in欢乐时光. The band also included King waiting on the bulletin boards to see

Victory Queen To Be Crowned At Blue Hills

Boys have also announced the stars of the stage and screen, but cannot be definitely named as of yet. At the dance and crown the M.I.T. Victory Queen contest will be held in the near future.
