After that date, the Institute will follow the usual schedule of two terms a year with an optional summer session.

The Spring term of 1946, which will begin on Monday, March 4, will be shortened to fourteen weeks of classes with no final examinations at the end of the term. This policy will also be followed for the next three terms, which provides for a transition from the present three terms a year to the normal two terms a year, a policy approved by the Executive Committee of the Corporation and the Faculty Council. It covers the double purpose of returning to a normal program and, at the same time, keeping the Institute operating continuously for the benefit of those students, particularly veterans, who do not want to take any lengthy vacations.
