Freshman Camp

At Sharon Site
25th Camp Is Largest In History
Many Faculty Attend

The largest Freshman Camp in the history of the Institute was held in Camp Wonderland on the shore of Lake Mascon on Friday, September 27. The Freshman Camp, which includes 450 freshmen, some 35 counselors and several members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.

After registration in Walker Laboratory, the meeting in Huntington Hall where President Karl Taylor welcomed the freshmen and to the camp by President Compton and Deans Lobbis, P. M. Friday, September 27, to 8:00 P. M., and many coaches, members of the faculty, and guests. It was the sixty-fifth camp held since they were started in 1891.