Musical Clubs

(Continued from Page 1)

While the orchestra, also composed not only of students, will number over fifty. Four women and two men will sing the solo parts.

Tonight at 8:15 the Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season at the Tech Auditorium. Under the direction of Antonio J. d'Almeida, the orchestra will play a program in two parts. The first will include Lully's Suite for Orchestra, Poulenc's "Dido's Overture", and Handel's "Messiah" Overture and "Grand Concerto in B Flat Major". In the second part will be Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major" and Mozart's "Coronation" Overture. Tickets will cost 60 and 90c. and are on sale at the door.

As another activity the Glee Clubs will lead the Brigade in singing Christmas Carols next Thursday, December 19. At 11:45 classes will be dismissed and as many people as possible will assemble in the lobby of Building 7, for half an hour, to sing.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

Tonight at 8:15 the Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season at the Tech Auditorium. Under the direction of Antonio J. d'Almeida, the orchestra will play a program in two parts. The first will include Lully's Suite for Orchestra, Poulenc's "Dido's Overture", and Handel's "Messiah" Overture and "Grand Concerto in B Flat Major". In the second part will be Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major" and Mozart's "Coronation" Overture. Tickets will cost 60 and 90c. and are on sale at the door.

As another activity the Glee Clubs will lead the Brigade in singing Christmas Carols next Thursday, December 19. At 11:45 classes will be dismissed and as many people as possible will assemble in the lobby of Building 7, for half an hour, to sing.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

Tonight at 8:15 the Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season at the Tech Auditorium. Under the direction of Antonio J. d'Almeida, the orchestra will play a program in two parts. The first will include Lully's Suite for Orchestra, Poulenc's "Dido's Overture", and Handel's "Messiah" Overture and "Grand Concerto in B Flat Major". In the second part will be Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major" and Mozart's "Coronation" Overture. Tickets will cost 60 and 90c. and are on sale at the door.

As another activity the Glee Clubs will lead the Brigade in singing Christmas Carols next Thursday, December 19. At 11:45 classes will be dismissed and as many people as possible will assemble in the lobby of Building 7, for half an hour, to sing.