The rules for tennis are absolutely fair. Anyone who is not informed about these regulations are advised to read the tennis rules which are published in the "Tennis Journal of the Student Body." The aim of the game is to "get in a good groove.""

General Use of Court

The courts are enclosed by fences or an arrangement which ensures the safety of all persons when they are in the vicinity of the court. The court is well lighted and surrounded by buildings or trees which provide shade for the spectators to protect themselves from the sun. The tennis courts at the college are in a very good condition and are maintained in a clean and tidy state.

Organizing Committee

The organizing committee of the tennis tournament is composed of four members, two from each college. They are responsible for the arrangements of the tournament, including the selection of dates, times, and places for the games.

Preparation

All players are required to bring their tennis rackets and should be well equipped with shoes. The tennis court is well marked with boundaries and is surrounded by a fence to prevent balls from going out of bounds.

Wearing Uniforms

The players are asked to wear tennis uniforms, consisting of a shirt, shorts, and shoes. The colors of the uniforms are the same as those worn by the college teams.

The spectators are also asked to wear appropriate clothing and to maintain silence during the games.

League Schedule

The tennis tournament will take place on the following dates:

First Round: Friday, May 10
Second Round: Saturday, May 11
Final Round: Sunday, May 12

The tournament is open to the entire student body, and all interested individuals are invited to participate.

The Tech tennis team is looking forward to a successful tournament, and all players are urged to practice and prepare for the big event.

Group Sing Planned by MIT Outing Club

Yesterday the Outing Club presented the first of a series of outdoor singing programs on the Charles River. This first "Laurelinia," which was held during the school day, was a great success. The program was held under the direction of Professor Charles W. Stockwell, '49, who directed the singing.

The songs were sung in a variety of styles, including folk, religious, and patriotic. The singing was accompanied by a small orchestra, which was led by Professor Stockwell.

The Outing Club has plans to present several more of these programs before the end of the term.

Crew

Tech crews were not able to cross the finish line first in any of the other three races of the afternoon. These events included a 1,000-yarders, a 2-in-1, and a marathon. Despite this, the crews demonstrated their potential and showed great promise for the future.

The crews of both varsity and "B" teams are working hard to improve their performances and to achieve their goals for the upcoming season.

The Tech crews are looking forward to their next race, which will be held later in the season. They are working hard to prepare for this event and to show their progress.
