With a record number of nearly 1,000 eager students, the Tech's first orientation meeting of the year is bound to be a success. From the beginning, the program has been designed to present an overall view of the university, focusing on the most important aspects of life here. One of the main goals of the meeting is to introduce students to the various groups and activities that contribute to the Tech community. Through a series of presentations and discussions, students are encouraged to explore the many opportunities available to them, both on and off campus. This year's orientation meeting is expected to be one of the most successful yet, as students come together to learn about the incredible resources available to them. As the meeting comes to a close, students are left with a sense of excitement and anticipation for all that the year holds.
